PUBLIC NOTICE

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that Clark County Emergency Management is inviting comments and input from residents, businesses, area organizations, and communities regarding the draft Clark County Multi-Hazard Mitigation Plan, 2026-2031 and any needed projects to reduce or eliminate hazard risks to residents and property.

Clark County has recently completed a draft update of the County's Multi-Hazard Mitigation Plan, which is a pre-requisite for certain FEMA grant funding. Hazard mitigation actions are essential to creating a disaster-resilient community and breaking the disaster cycle of damage, reconstruction, and repeated damage, thus saving taxpayer dollars. Past example mitigation grant projects within Clark County include community safe rooms (storm shelters), the voluntary buyout of flood-prone properties, the distribution of weather radios, and burying power lines in areas prone to outages.

A copy of the draft plan is available for review at the County Emergency Management offices in Room 306 of the County Courthouse (517 Court Street, Neillsville) or is available for download at: https://www.wcwrpc.org/hazard-mitigation-planning

The public is invited to provide comment as the draft plan is finalized. Comments may be submitted online at: https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/ClarkHazMit through November 10, 2026. Any questions or written comments on the draft plan may also be directed to Jason Thornton, Clark County Emergency Management, at 715-743-5100.
