AND GOD SAYS . . .

This is the day that the LORD has made; we will rejoice and be glad in it. (Psalm 118:24)

This day exists because God caused it to exist. The moment God no longer desires days on earth to continue they will cease. We have no influence or voice in the matter.

That means, for one thing, that every man, woman or child lives by faith in God because we all go to bed at night believing tomorrow will come. We believe we will wake up and grow another day older, and hopefully, wiser. So let us rejoice in the new day we have.

But why should we rejoice in this day? Don't you know that a lot of bad things will happen today? We should rejoice because God says "Now is the day of salvation," (2 Corinthians 6:2). That means it is a day of hope.

The apostle Paul stressed the importance of these words, pleading with the people by imploring them "on Christ's behalf: Be reconciled to God. God made him who had no sin (that's Jesus) to be sin for us (he died on the cross for our sins), so that in him (Jesus) we might become the righteousness of God (that's is, we are covered by Jesus's righteousness— that means NO sin). . . For he (God) says, 'In the time of my favor (God's favor) I heard you, and in the day of salvation I helped you.' I tell you, NOW is the time of God's favor, NOW is the day of salvation." (2 Corinthians 5:20b-6:2, emphasis mine).

Furthermore, Peter tells us that God lets this corrupt world continue, even though it is full of pain, violence, sickness, war, and all kinds of evil, to give us today to repent because he doesn't want any of us to perish (that is, go to hell) but to come to repentance. (2 Peter 3:3-8).

We need to remember that when God made this world it was very good. It was sin, Adams'sin, our sin, that has caused all the problems. God wants to rescue us from our sin and it's consequence so we do not have to continue to suffer its effects in hell for eternity. Rather, he desires to restore us to that which is very good, that is, living with him in perfect peace in his heaven for ever. Now is the day he places this offer on the table. It is ours to receive or not. I hope, if you haven't already, you will this day personally receive this gift of forgiveness, life and love.

WHAT DOES THAT WORD MEAN?

We hear so many political words thrown about that mean different things to different people. Let's look at these words in a very simple form.

DEMOCRACY – is a form of government where political power belongs to the people or the population. Democracy can include the right to life and liberty, freedom of assembly, personal property, freedom of religion and speech, citizenship, voting rights, and minority rights, but it doesn't have to. The United States is a representative democracy. This means people vote for leaders to represent them. We are also governed by a Constitution. This limits power and protects rights.

This system is called a Constitutional Democracy.

AUTOCRACY – is a government where one person or a small group rule over everyone else.

DICTIONSHIP - is a type of autocracy where one person holds all the power, which was usually seized by force. All dictatorships are forms of autocracy.

OLIGARCHY – is a type of autocracy run by a very small group of very powerful people. These are men of wealth, property or nobility, who control government and society.

FASCISM – is a specific type of autocracy where the government believes the nation or race is more important than individual people. It has a centralized, government run by a dictator.

The government tightly controls the economy and society and suppresses all opposition.

NAZIISM - is a specific form of fascism created by Adolf Hitler and his German Nazi Party. It was based on a belief that the white race, especially the Germanic peoples were superior. Jews, Slavs, Romani people, among others, were considered inferior.

THEOCRACY – is a government run by religious leaders who believe they are guided by God. Laws are based on religion. One example is Iran, an Islamic Republic.

SOCIALISM is an economic system that tries to spread wealth more equally. Major industries are controlled by collective or government ownership. Services like healthcare and education are available to all. Socialist governments tend to reach their goals through democratic changes. Socialist programs exist in many capitalist countries, often there to ease the effect of Capitalism. This includes ours. Examples are Social Security, Veterans benefits and Medicare.

COMMUNISM is a form of Socialism where the power was usually taken by force and is controlled centrally. The government controls all major industries and resources. Private ownership is mostly removed and replaced with shared ownership.

CAPITALISM - is an economic system where a country's trade, industry and resources are controlled by private owners. People have the right to private property, to accumulate wealth, to use wage labor and to make a profit. Capitalism does not need Democracy in order to function. It can operate inside democracies or autocracies.
