AND GOD SAYS . . .

It is good to praise the Lord and make music to your name,
O Most High, to proclaim your love in the morning and your faithfulness at night, Psalms 92:1-2

My wife has these verses posted on the mirror in our bath-room. I see it most every morning. As a result, I think (muse, meditate) on these verses often. I looked up this couplet, love and faithfulness, and found it occurred in 28 verses in the Old Testament. That makes it pretty significant.

As I have pondered these verses, I wondered why love in the morning and faithfulness at night. I thought the answer ought to be obvious. In the morning, as you are looking forward to a new day, you anticipate God's love displayed during the day, expressing itself in intimate and wondrous ways. It is to be expected. And at night, you can look back on the day and see the faithfulness of God to do so.

However, for many people, they see neither. The reason they don't is not because it is not there, but because they fail to see it. Things like this happen to me all the time. When driving down the road, my wife will say something like "Did you see. . .?" And I will answer "Where?" Because I didn't see it. You see, my attention was elsewhere and I didn't see it.

That is exactly why we miss seeing God's love and faithful-ness in our lives daily. We are so busy looking at our circum-stances and how they affect us that we don't see what God is doing and how he is glorifying his own name. We are so intent on today that we don't see God's long range plan for tomorrow.

So, why not start each day looking for his love and ending each day basking in his faithfulness from his perspective. It just might radically change your life.

Here are a couple more verses to think about.
"Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne; love and faithfulness go before you." Psalms 89:14
"Through love and faithfulness sin is atoned for; through the fear of the Lord a man avoids evil." Proverbs 16:6

~Do a practice walk to school or the bus stop

Practice with your child on or before the first day of school, choosing a route with the fewest street crossings and avoiding deserted areas.

~Teach your child to never talk to strangers

Go over specific scenarios, such as a motorist asking for directions or assistance, or a stranger with a friendly pet, that may trick kids into interacting with a stranger.

~Teach kids what traffic signals and signs mean

Communicate the importance of obeying them. Remind kids to carefully cross streets at crosswalks, looking both ways twice and never entering the street from between parked cars.

~Go over school bus rules with kids

Remind them to stay seated throughout the ride. Teach kids to never approach or prepare to exit the bus until it comes to a complete stop, and to only cross at least 10 giant steps in front of the bus when exiting, so the driver can see them.

~Make sure your child knows your phone number

As well as your place of work, and his or her home address. Kids should also have a backup number for another trusted adult and know to call 911 in an emergency.

~Help organize your child’s backpack

Make sure it’s not more than 20% of his or her weight.

~Tour the school with your child

Meet the new teacher and find their classroom.
