After 31 Years of Devoted Service, Local Dentist Retiring

To all my valued patients and friends,

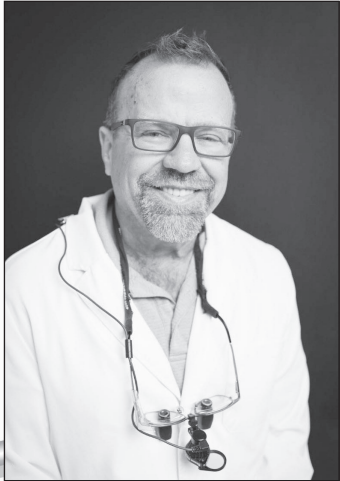

I have received great personal reward from dentistry in this community for over the last 31 years, however the time has come as of October 1, 2024 for me to retire and concentrate on enjoying life with my family. It has been an honor and a privilege to be your dentist, and I have sincerely appreciated your confidence and trust by allowing me to care for all your dental needs.

After a long and careful search, Dr. Rebecca Willfahrt has joined our team. Dr. Willfahrt's enthusiasm and caring manner are closely aligned with my philosophy of care. With her combined experience and education, I assure you that excellent dental care will continue.

While the announcement of my retirement may have come suddenly, I have been committed to facilitating a smooth transition with Dr. Willfahrt for the past year. Dr. Willfahrt will extend the same courtesy and loyalty that you have come to expect from me over these many years.

Thank you again for your trust, confidence, and friendship!

Dr. John A. Scaletta

AND GOD SAYS . . .

People are anxious about the unrest in our country and in the world. It seems every thing we have held dear that made us feel safe is gone and insecurity and unrest have replaced it all in the name of freedom and self rights.

I remember as a young boy growing up in a suburban area outside of St. Paul and Minneapolis. In our neighborhood, as elementary age children, we would walk to the school unescorted, several blocks away, to play ball in the summer and skate in the winter. There was never a kidnapping, murder, rape, or other act of violence that I know of. In fact, we never even had a secure lock on our house that couldn't be opened with a skeleton key. But we never locked our doors anyway. There just didn't seem to be the need.

But that all has changed. After a large complex of apartments was built across the street from our house, my mom installed three locks on each door because of repeated break-ins. There was no longer the pride of ownership and the sense of responsibility that go with it. The culture quickly reverted from a culture of responsibility and integrity into a culture of rights and entitlement. In fact, our son came home from school one day with a handout entitled, "Now that you are 18, these are your rights." My wife asked some school personnel, "Where is the paper that says, 'Now that you are 18, these are your responsibilities.'"

But, behind the scenes, in all of this change, is the loss of the fear of God. Slowly but surely we have removed any reference or thought of God in public life. Our young people learn a revisionist history that is devoid of any reference to God that is favorable or non-mythical in nature. The Bible, prayer, and even the Ten Commandments are all prohibited in the classroom. Evolution has replaced creation so there is no need of God nor does he have any authority over our lives. Religion is viewed as a personal thing, and therefore, should not be spoken of in public. Thus, we have moved from an underlying faith in God, to not just a neutral view of God, but to a hostile view of God as a One is seen who does nothing but take away my rights to do what I want. But be warned. One day Jesus will appear in His glory and all people, everywhere, will tremble and bow their knee and confess Jesus is Lord. Philippians 2: 9-11.

REACHING OUR SENIORS WITH YOUR VALUABLE SERVICES IS IMPORTANT!

Stay Healthy Through the Winter

Amy Gunderson,
Jackson County Public Health Nutritionist

When you are indoors more during the fall and winter, you may be closer to other people. This can increase your chances of catching viruses that cause colds, the flu or COVID-19. Dry winter air can also weaken natural mucus barriers in the nose, mouth and lungs, where viruses
can enter the body.

Get a flu shot

CDC estimates that flu causes millions of illnesses, hundreds of thousands of hospitalizations, and thousands of deaths each year.
The best way to protect yourself and your family against flu is
by getting vaccinated.
When you receive a flu shot, you essentially receive an inactive form of the closest match to the flu virus that year.
Your body then forms anti-bodies specifically to fight off this type of virus. That way, when the real thing hits you already have a reserve
army: in your immune system that will attack this virus at first contact. Everyone six months of age and older should receive the flu vaccine every year.

Best Practice for Staying Healthy

Healthy Habits prevent germs and infection disease from spreading.

- Wash your hands
regularly – keep the bacteria and viruses off your hands and out of your mouth and eyes.
Always keep a bottle
of hand sanitizer close-by for those instances where you can't get to soap and water.

- Wipe down surfaces around you with a sanitizing cleaner.

- Avoid touching
eyes, nose, and mouth.

- Stay hydrated, so you can flush toxins out of your system.

- Get enough sleep
to keep your immune system strong

- Stay home when you are sick.

Eat and Drink Wisely

Eat food which is rich in Vitamin C. It will help you keep your immune system strong and healthy during the winter. Try to include more fruit and veggies
such as lemons, kiwi-
fruit, oranges, spinach and broccoli in every day meals.

Don't forget to drink water. One of the best things you can do for your health is to drink optimal amounts of water every day. Water
plays a big part, and it can keep you healthy during the winter.

Get Active

It is really important to be active on a regular basis, even if only 15 minutes a day! Get active around the house.
Don't want to miss
your favorite show?
Try jogging or walking in place or even just stretch while you are watching it. Other ways to be active are cleaning, walking the dog or just going up and down your steps a few times per day. Have fun getting physical in the comfort of your warm home. Please contact your health care provider about what types and amounts of physical activity are right for you before making too many changes.
