In Loving Memory of

DOUGLAS A. VOIGT

8-30-1940 to 7-24-2006

The moment that you died our hearts were torn in two. One side filled with heartache, the other died with you. We often lie awake at night when the world is fast asleep and take a walk down memory lane with tears upon our cheeks. Remembering you is easy, we do it everyday. But missing you is heartache that never goes away. We hold you tightly within our heart and there you will remain until the joyous day arrives that we will meet again.

Happy Birthday in Heaven!

AND GOD SAYS . . .

A man was born blind. He was never able to appreciate the beauty of the mountains or the mountain streams. He never saw the grandeur of the starlit sky or the brightness of the sunrise or sunset. Even more importantly, he was limited to the places he could go by himself for fear of becoming lost or, worse yet, stumbling and falling and severely injuring himself.

He did not have a lot of friends because people did not want to be burdened with him, having to lead him around and care for his needs. So he was, in many ways, limited to what he knew.

So one day when a stranger befriended him and offered to take him some new places where he had never been, he became very anxious and agitated. He had been taught to be wary of strangers for fear that they would take advantage of him. Thus, he refused to go with him. And when the stranger persisted, trying even more to convince him to go with him, he became more defensive and even angry and told the stranger to leave.

Later, he told his family about his encounter and they told him he did right and encouraged him greatly. They all wondered why the stranger was so friendly but couldn't figure it out. That left them all more concerned and fearful.

I thought of this story after reading 2 Corinthians 4:3-5: And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing. The god of this age has blinded the minds of unbelievers, so that they cannot see the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God.

Let me make just three quick applications.

1. The reticence of believers to accept the gospel is understandable in the light of this Scripture.
2. It is important that we earn the trust of unbelievers when we share with them the gospel.
3. The real cause of resistance, when sharing the gospel, is not the one to whom we are sharing it with, but the one who is blinding them to the truth. This, then, becomes more of a prayer battle than a matter of persuasion. So let us be gentle as doves and wise as serpents as we share Jesus with others (Matthew 10:16).

Pet of the Week

“LEO”

Leo is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

Leo came to CCHS as a stray found in the Neillsville area. He's a handsome Black Lab mix who is about 1 1/2 years old. He weighs 52# and has a short-haired black coat with just a little white trim. Leo likes to make new friends and is always excited when you stop by his kennel to visit. He gets along with other dogs, too. Leo is still a puppy at heart, and he has lots and lots of energy. He'll need to have an active lifestyle to burn off some of that energy, and would love to go for lots of long walks and hikes. His enthusiasm for life is quite boundless, and he can't wait to share it with his new family. You can submit your adoption application for Leo right on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/ applying-to-adopt. We have lots of wonderful pets available for adoption now, so please check them all out and then stop in to visit.

Do you have a love for cats and dogs and have been thinking it would be nice to help out at CCHS? Well, now's your chance! Whether it's a few hours a week, one day a month, or something in between, this is your opportunity to try it out. We are very much in need of volunteers! You can learn more and sign up on our website: <https://www.cchs-petshelter.org/> volunteer or email April at cchsoutreach1@gmail.com.
